Sugarcane Price & Wage Hearing Set

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today that a public hearing will be held in Clewiston, Fla., on the Sugarcane Park Auditorium, on May 16, 1949, for the purpose of receiving evidence on wage rates for sugarcane workers in Florida for the year beginning July 1, 1949, and on fair prices for the 1949 crop of sugarcane.

One of the conditions which producers must meet to qualify for payments under the Sugar Act is to pay wage rates not less than those determined to be fair and reasonable by the Secretary of Agriculture after public hearing and investigation. The Act also provides, as a condition for payment, that processors who are also producers must pay for sugarcane purchased from other producers prices determined to be fair and reasonable by the Secretary of Agriculture.

In order to obtain the best information possible, the Department requests that all interested persons appear at the hearing to express their views and present appropriate data in regard to wages and prices.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

(By Russell Kay)

Ordinarily I would say that we have too many holidays now, but I'll have to admit that the suggestion of Dallas L. Hostetler, executive director of the Florida Retailers Association, that we arrange for just one more, has genuine merit.

He would establish a national "Tax Freedom Day" that would fall each year on whatever date marked the time we began working for ourselves and not for the government. He points out that this year it would have fallen on April 28, in view of the fact that every cent the American taxpayer had earned up until that time would have gone to pay taxes, which is merely another way of saying that our overall tax load, federal, state and local, has increased to the point where it now takes 32 cents out of every dollar earned to pay the cost of government.

Out of each hour we work, the pay for 19 minutes is taken by the government in direct and hidden imposts. The situation calls to mind the concession to freedom granted Prussian serfs centuries ago. Their masters allowed them to work for themselves two days out of each week.

Quoting from reliable tax information sources, the tax liberation holiday advocate points out that there are today 189 taxes on a suit of clothes, 154 taxes on a bar of soap, 201 taxes on a gallon of gasoline, 205 taxes on a new car, 127 taxes on a roast of beef, 502 taxes on a pair of shoes and 53 taxes on a loaf of bread. Of the 32 cents of each dollar that goes for taxes, 11 cents are in the open while 21 cents are under cover or hidden taxes. Some 155,000 tax authorities in the United States today are permitted by law to levy more than five hundred different kinds of taxes. And all of them are grasping for more power to levy more taxes.

State, federal and local government has gone tax mad and if all the increased taxes advocated in bills now before congress, state legislatures and local taxing bodies are, written into law we will find ourselves working five or six months to pay this excessive tax burden and less and less for ourselves.

While the proposed Tax Freedom Day might have fallen on April 28 this year, as taxes are increased this particular holiday would come later and later each year, for the more taxes imposed the longer we must work to pay it and the less we have for ourselves.

Hostetler's State Association of Florida Merchants is waging a vigorous campaign in behalf of "good government at less cost." They have the conviction that tax spenders should effect millions of dollars in tax savings through efficiencies and economies in government operation before seeking new means of increasing our already over-burdening tax load.

When the American must devote nearly one-third of their working time to supporting their various governments, they are at a saturation point so far as the tax load is concerned, Hostetler contends.

But we need look for no tax relief, no governmental economies and no elimination of governmental waste and inefficiencies so long as the people themselves remain indifferent and unconcerned. Tax spenders returned to office, feel that the sky is the limit; they claim that the people themselves have given them a blank check and a mandate to tax more and spend more.

We can look for an increased tax burden next year and in the years to follow. Government is going to cost a lot more before people rise in indignation and demand a halt. Smooth-tongued politicians will use to sleep with tales of the benefits we receive and contend that we must pay more taxes because we as citizens have demanded more and more in the way of governmental services. No agency of government is ever satisfied; no matter how much we appropriate this year they are back again requesting more and more tax money and the vicious circle rolls on with the poor dumb taxpayer taking the rap and apparently liking it.

Like spoiled children we make little effort to solve our own problems and stand on our own feet as did our pioneering forefathers. We expect the government to feed us, clothe us, care for us when we are ill, shorten our hours of work, increase our pay, and wipe our smiling noses, and this goes for big business and industry just as it does for labor and the lowly individual for industry has formed the habit of running to Washington for relief in the form of subsidies just as the labor leader rushes there for whatever he may happen to want.

Maybe it would be a mighty good thing to take one day off each year to ponder over this menacing problem of taxation. It looks like Mr. Hostetler really has something, but I doubt if the politicians would look kindly on the idea of setting aside a holiday designed to the thoughtful consideration of tax problems, for people might wake up and do just that.

Cinematic Chatter

By Malcolm Miller

It's a lawless drama of ruthless men, driven together on a South Sea island by the winds of hatred, greed and passion. For two hours you'll live and love in the South Seas, when "Wake of the Red Witch," starring John Wayne and Gail Russell, is presented at the Prince Theatre, Sunday and Monday.

The story of "Wake of the Red Witch" is from the GaNand Roark's book that sold millions of copies, and all of the thrills and heart-tightening suspense is built right into the picture.

The large featured cast is headed by Gig Young, Adele Mara, Luther Adler and Gant Withers. This tale of men of the seven seas, fighting, loving, conniving, drinking; dying in their swirling struggles for gold and women, will have you hanging onto your seat throughout its showing.

See you at the movies—Mal.

A strong trend to completely automatic control for perishable marine cargoes is shown by the report of Brown Instruments division of Minneapolis-Honeywell that its orders for temperature measuring and controlling devices for such ships were greater for the first quarter of this year than for the first half of 1948.

Racing Drivers Face Rugged Assignment

DAYTONA BEACH — Florida automobile racing drivers will face a rugged assignment when they compete in the F. A. R. C. sanctioned hot-rod championship trophy race to be held here May 15. This meet will inaugurate the opening of the Daytona Beach Speedway, located four miles West of here on U. S. 92 (Deland Road) at the Municipal Airport.

The new quarter mile circular track is composed of clay and shell and is reported to be very fast. Seventeen home state drivers have filed their entries and several out-of-state drivers are expected to compete.

Orlando's entries include George (Crash) Tidd, Flying Paul Sanborn, Bud McBride and Cotton Hodges. Other Florida entries include James Rapon, of Jacksonville Beach; Emil Reutemann, Jr., of Zephyrhills; Allan Carter, Gainesville; Ben Rodgers, Plant City; Ray Bennett, Arlington; James Willard, Hollywood; Lester Register, Ray Harston, Buddy Knox and Bud Herdon, all of St. Augustine.

More than 120,000 square feet of clay tile, enough to blanket 15 baseball diamonds, was installed in bathrooms and service rooms of the recently opened Shamrock Hotel at Houston to insure sanitation and waterproofing.

P. B. County Folks Root For B. Elliott

(By Ralph Blank)
RDB Manager

TALLAHASSEE — Palm Beach County folks were very much in evidence around the legislative halls of the Capitol, enthusiastically rooting for the election of B. Elliott of Pahokee as Speaker of the House for the 1951 session. Representative Elliott, elected after a bitterly-fought four way contest, is the first Speaker of the House in history to come from Palm Beach County.

Among the local bills to be introduced or passed in the session were measures increasing the salary of the judge of the criminal court of record in Palm Beach county to $6,000 annually and those of the two circuit court judges to $12,500. The House passed bills creating a jury commission to serve without pay in the county and establishing an airport authority. The latter measure creates no new commission, but gives members of the county commission serving on the new board necessary authority to handle airport matters more efficiently.

Another House bill increases the salaries of fee officers in the county from $7,500 to $10,000, payable from the first income received in their various offices.

About half of Governor Warren's tax proposals had been killed or badly mangled during the hectic fourth week of the biennial session. Of the bills proposed to raise 50 millions in new revenue, the Governor's forces have lost six rounds unless a two-thirds majority should be mustered on the Senate floor to override the actions of committees.

Taxes proposed on fuel oil, tobacco, room rent, amusements, phosphate and utilities were turned down by the Senate Finance and Taxation committee. The proposals to increase taxes on corporations, intangibles and documentary stamp transactions will be reported favorably by the committee, but it is conceded that even these measures have a precarious course ahead and may fail to pass. Talk in legislative circles continues to point to a sales tax as the legislature's possible answer to the tax dilemma and "extra session" rumors continue to grow.

Senator John Matthews of Duval proposed the newest tax source in a measure which he designated as a "business privilege and excise tax" as a substitute for the Governor's program. He claims it "would solve all Florida's current financial problems."

C. P. GIRL SCOUTS

The Girl Scouts of Canal Point, Troop No. 1, held their meeting at the Canal Point American Legion Hall, Friday, April 29. We had a backward meeting by doing everything backward. First, we formed a friendship circle and sang "Taps". We then divided into patrols, had the roll call, and collected dues. The Turquoise Patrol entertained the others by having a puppet show about the race of the turtle and rabbit. The Haliwatha Patrol entertained the others with a puppet show about Cinderella. We played a game of "Still Pond" and were dismissed.

Tomato Growers To Meet May 13 At Clewiston Inn

ORLANDO — Florida tomato growers and shippers will meet at the Clewiston Inn on May 13 to decide the types of packages that will be used next year to market the state's important tomato crop. The meeting will begin at 1:30 p. m., following a meeting of the board of directors of the Florida Fruit & Vegetable Association, according to Association Manager LaMonte Graw.

During the recent years most of the tomatoes marketed from Florida and competing areas have been shipped in "lugs" carrying from 30 to 35 pounds. Last fall saw approximately 75 per cent of the product being transported, largely to packers, in many types of containers, with the field box predominating. This chaotic condition, Graw said, resulted in an industry meeting at Perrine in February at which time the decision was made to standardize on one size of container for each purpose. The package or packages to be recommended for inclusion in the Container Tariff will be selected at the Clewiston meeting, after reports have been received on hundreds of tests made during the past few months by shippers, manufacturers, and railroad weighing and inspection agencies.

Informal agreement has been reached between container manufacturers, the railroads and the Florida Fruit & Vegetable Association as to the manner in which the container tariffs may be changed in the future. Every effort is being made to standardize on a minimum of packages, Graw said.

The tomato industry meeting will also hear reports on grading practices. A USDA representative has been studying this problem and his conclusion will be offered for consideration. Chairman Dixon Pearce of FFVA's tomato division, who is now in Washington consulting with USDA officials on the farm housing program, has asked that state market managers, railroad officials, manufacturers and all others interested in the tomato industry attend this meeting.

The directors of FFVA will meet at 10 a. m., to hear a legislative report from Manager Graw.

SOONER or LATER - MR. JAYWALKER GETS A RIDE!

You have heard of him before, read about him in the obituaries and cursed him when driving. Mr. Jaywalker is the habitually irresponsible pedestrian who accounted for 34% of Florida's traffic fatalities in one year and 195 of his kind were given a ride to the morgue. Throughout the nation 11,200 pedestrians lost their lives last year. Are you startled?

If you have any jaywalking tendencies in your make up eliminate them before they eliminate you. Danger to life and limb is ever present when you venture into traffic. Yet it requires only the simplest application of a little common sense and patience to quit being a jaywalker. Walk and cross streets and highways where you should — when you should. Don't pit your body against speeding metal; it won't win.

Living is a great adventure. Why cut it short before your time? Walk safely and live longer.

Mr. Motorist—

CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"ADAM AND FALLEN MAN" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday, May 8.

The Golden Text is: "As in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive" (I Cor. 15:22).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage" (Gal. 5:1).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Through discernment of the spiritual opposite of materiality, even the way through Christ, Truth, man will reopen with the key of divine Science the gates of Paradise which human beliefs have closed, and will find himself un-fallen, upright, pure, and free, not needing to consult almanacs for the probabilities either of his life or of the weather, not needing to study brainology to learn how much of a man he is" (171:4).

Church Women To Present Program

The Pahokee-Canal Point Council of Church Women will present a May Fellowship program, "Freedom's Foundation, the Christian Home," in the Canal Point school auditorium this Friday evening, May 6, at 8 p. m. Mrs. A. R. Harrington, council president, will preside at a brief business session preceding the program.

Miss Caraway In Charge Of Program

She was assisted by Mrs. E. E. Coleman and Mrs. Horace Unwin. The work of Stanley Smith among the Seminole Indians was described in a talk by Mrs. M. S. Gay, a visitor. Mrs. G. C. Council was in charge of the devotionals.

At the business session which followed the program Mrs. Coleman gave a report on the circle's activities in community mission work. It was announced that the next circle meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Horace Unwin on June 6. Mrs. Stevens was assisted with the serving of refreshments by her daughter, Nancy.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Jackson had as their guest the past week their niece, Miss Isabel Rutherford of Culloden, Ga.

B. Elliott Lauded On His Election

Allen Morris, who has covered the state legislature for many sessions and write a special column for many Florida newspapers, had the following to say about B. Elliott being designated speaker of the 1951 house of representatives: "TALLAHASSEE—B. Elliott's political success story proves once again the wisdom of an old rule—keep your mouth shut unless you have something worthwhile to say. The quiet, effective Pahokee lawmaker made very little noise as he went about the house obtaining vote pledges for the speakership of the 1951 house of representatives."

But about 36 hours before the Wednesday night caucus, insiders learned that the break had come and that Elliott had sufficient strength to win even against a frantic coalition attempted by some friends of his two opponents, second-termers C. Farris Bryant of Ocala and George Tapper of Port St. Joe.

The coalition formed because Elliott was obviously in the lead, agreed that if either Tapper or Bryant was eliminated his votes would go to the other instead of to Elliott but Elliott's head-start victory on the second ballot never gave those strategists a chance.

A man of many friends, Elliott built a solid nucleus of support in the waning days of the 1947 session. Since that time he had consistently maintained a position of either first or second in the race. Without discounting the popular Palm Beach county man's well-earned victory, it should be noted that each of his major opponents faced a heavy handicap.

In Tapper's case, it was the unfounded whisper that Gov. Warren was giving him secret aid.

Bryant's burden was the fact that his fellow townsman, Sen. Wallace E. Sturgis, already had been designated president of the 1951 senate. Many house members felt that no one community should furnish both the top legislative leaders.

Elliott, essentially, a serious minded individual, is 47. A neat dresser he makes a good appearance because of his height and ramrod erectness.

An automobile dealer-rancher, he makes a hobby of raising purebred and quarter horses. He has served in the legislature since 1945.

A native of Texas, Elliott is the former Miss Velva Parker of Lakeland and they have four children.

Perhaps as high a compliment to Elliott as his election was the brief, gracious comment his wife made when she was asked to speak to the caucus:

"It's been my honor and my privilege to live with B. for 13 years," she said.

Miss Nina Briggs Gave Talk On 'Africa'

Miss Nina Briggs gave a talk on "Africa" at a mission study conducted by members of the Girls Auxiliary and the Royal Ambassadors of the Canal Point Baptist Church on Thursday afternoon of last week. A movie on "Africa" was also shown to the children by Mrs. Elmo Scoggin and Mrs. Charles Maxson, leaders. Following the study the children built a miniature "African Village" which was later put on display at the church.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served to approximately 35 children by members of the Woman's Missionary Society.

May you never be roasted like this!

"NEFF? SURE I REMEMBER HIM. Class of '19, wasn't he?"

"That's right. You knew he had to give up his job. Doctor's orders."

"Tough break. Hope he had some money saved up."

"Not Neff. Not a penny. You know how he always was—easy come, easy go. Had to sell his house to get out of debt."

"Rough on that sweet little wife of his. Now that I think of it, she kept trying to talk him out of his free-spending ways. Guess she never could."

"He'd never listen. And how those two boys of theirs are of college age."

"Guess now they'll have to go to work, supporting him. Why do people get themselves in a spot like that? Anybody with the common sense of a jack-rabbit knows that the only way to protect their families and themselves is with a systematic plan of saving."

We don't know Neff. We merely overheard two fellows talking at lunch the other day. Actually we feel sorry for him—for anyone who doesn't know the importance of saving.

Fortunately, for every Neff there are thousands of others who do have a plan for the future. These are the men who invest a part of their earnings each month in U.S. Savings Bonds.

They can see the wisdom in the Payroll Savings Plan—a painless, automatic plan that pays back $4 for every $3 put in, after ten years.

They know that U.S. Savings Bonds are guaranteed by the Government—the safest, surest investment a family man can make today!

If you're not on a payroll, ask at your bank about the equally convenient Bond-A-Month Plan. Remember—you owe it to your own future and to the security of your family!

Landscaping Of Farm Homes By 4-H's Steadily Increases

The annual enrollment of Florida boys and girls in the National 4-H Home Grounds Beautification program has steadily increased, and the 1949 figure is expected to follow suit, according to the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work. On a national scale, enrollment has more than doubled in the last five years.

4-H Club members start out by mapping the farmstead grounds and showing plans for improvement. They learn to use flowers, plants, shrubs, trees and grasses in landscaping. Sometimes dad and mother lend a hand in the job, and share the satisfaction of turning their farm home into a beauty spot. "Before" and "after" photos are taken to show results.

For the 12th consecutive year, Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen of Chicago is providing merit awards for 4-H's having the most outstanding records of accomplishment in the project. County winners will receive a gold-filled medal of honor, and state winner a 17-jewel gold watch. Judged on a national basis, eight state winners will go to the National 4-H Clinic Congress next fall, all expenses paid.

The entire program is under the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Horse Racing Is Revenue Producer

TALLAHASSEE—Horse racing is a tremendous revenue producer in Florida and no one is more cognizant of the fact than the state itself. Since 1931, the state has collected more than $85,000,000 in parimutuel revenue from all forms of racing.

Of this amount, horse tracks accounted for more than $55,000,000. Hialeah, being the oldest in point of operation, has contributed more than 50 per cent of the aggregate, with Tropical, Gulfstream and Sunshine Park accounting for the balance.

Gulfstream Park rang down the curtain on Florida's long horse racing season recently. Overall attendance and wagering will show only a slight drop for the 1948-49 season, which began last December 1, the State Racing Commission reported.

Gulfstream is the only one of the four horse tracks in the state to show an increase in both attendance and parimutuel play. Sunshine Park at Tampa had improved attendance but betting dropped $937,478, the Commission reported. Tropical Park, which opened the season at Miami in December, had a decline of $4,618,340 and Hialeah dropped off $2,144,194.

Gulfstream opened the 1947-48 season but changed places with Tropical this season, in the customary rotation, with Hialeah having the choice middle dates. The Racing Commission said the four tracks showed a total drop of 30,927 in attendance, $3,281,074 in wagering and $590,545 in total revenue to the state.

The Racing Commission said all horse, dog and jai-alai plants in the state showed an increase of 7.07 per cent in attendance to date and a 1.49 per cent decline in parimutuel play. Five dog tracks are still operating with three scheduled to close May 30 and two to operate Summer programs.

Total figures for all tracks so far this season, the Commission said, showed attendance of 4,291,723; parimutuel handle of $165,887,578, and revenue to the state, $12,391,241.

Whether the average track patron realizes it or not, the state is the chief benefactor in parimutuel wagering. For example, its share in the 1948-49 meeting alone from Hialeah, Tropical, Gulfstream and Sunshine Park is in excess of $8,000,000.

Racing revenue reached an all-time high in the 1946-47 season, when the state received $9,666,988. Last season the figure dropped off to $8,756,767. In the 1947-48 meeting, the take was in excess of nine and a half million dollars.

The state obtains its revenue from the tracks in a number of ways. One is through the attendance tax. Another from betting, and the third from breakage. Last year, breakage alone produced $674,651.
